A story about friends

Anonymous

Joey was full of bad luck. At Camp Widjiwagan he broke the slide. At sleepaway camp he wet his bed. At Whippoorwill he broke the bench and Max got really mad at him. At Lunch he spilled his tomato soup on his counselor. He then fell into the pond during fishing. That night he found a fish in his pants. Joey did realize however, that you don't have to have good luck to make friends. He made lots of friends at Whippoorwill and made lots of memories.

Whippoorwill Weekly

Session 3: June 6 -10

Campers show off the crawdad they caught at landfishing.

This week's theme was Spirit week! The campers made sports themed pottery, sun catchers, and sculpy pens in the art barn. Camper also enjoyed making fossils, bird feeders and dream catchers at the Nature Museum. Campers and counselors accessorized for backwards day, Jersey day, Twin day and Tacky day. The week ended with Bus Spirit day with everyone dressing up as their bus mascot and cheering on their bus counselors at the counselor competition. It was another spirited week at camp!

Witch Sighting

Eleanor K- Bear Cubs
Nature new is the best. Nature is very pretty and cool. Creek Play was really fun. it is my first time at camp where you can swim in the creek. They also have a swimming pool! You can ride horses too, that's my favorite activity. The counselors are nice.

Repelling

Charles M - Tee Pee
First of all, if you've repelled in log cabin, it's nothing like teepee. Just for proof, Log Cabin's version is 10 feet tall, whereas teepee's is 40 feet tall. It isn't scary when you're repelling, but it is traumatizing to look down. I've repelled twice, so I'm a pro. But even if you're a pro, it can be scary and challenging. I think once you're in teepee you should try repelling.

Creek play

Justin N - Bear Cubs
I like creekplay. We found eight crawdads. I also like creek hike. We saw the witch's house.

Taking care of Nature

Eleonore N - Log Cabin
Taking care of nature at Whippoorwill is very good for animals, insects, reptiles and amphibians. Try not to trash nature or any kind of animal home. Think if you were an animal and a person trashed your home. So let's start picking up trash. Even if you don't want to, you should still try to. Every part of Whippoorwill has nature. If you go on the creek hike you can see the witch's house. It's really fun so try it! There is also hiking, where you can see the monster's house. Lake YOLO is where you get to kayak and paddle board. There are five buses: red fox, orange turkey, green lizard, campy chameleon and the blue bison.
